WHAT IS SUBLIMATION?

The most durable way of highest level of detail sublimation printing cannot ever crack or peel so is our preferred method of application. Sublimation printing cannot peel or crack like traditional screen printing. Sublimation is the process by which ink is fused into the fabric of a garment, dramatically increasing design possibilities and allowing you to create a truly bespoke kit. By printing designs direct into fabric compared to using a cricket shirt, sublimation opens up the opportunities to provide teams with a unique printing look.
